The Ill-fated Steamer Impaled on the Willamette's Bow.

Several Persons Crushed to Death by the Collision.

Mistake of Signals the Cause of the Calamity-Different Versions Civen by the Captains of the Steamers.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SEATTLE (Wash.), Oct. 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamer Premier, which was sunk in a collision yes-terday, left Port Townsend about 1:20 for Seattle in a heavy fog, blowing her whistle continuously. Point No Point, another whistle sounded close by and almost immediately afterward a terrific crash was heard. The fore cabin of the Premier was smashed to splinters and the prow of the Willamette was found jammed right into the bow of the Premier. The Willamette was laden with coal and was on her way from Seattle to San Francisco. There were a number of men in the Premier's cabin, one of whom was killed, together with a boy. A steward, who was in the saloon eating his dinner, was instantly killed. Several other passengers were jammed in the debris. Some of them were seriously wounded and all were more or less bruised.

The ladies were handed up first, fol-lowed by the wounded as fast as they could be removed. Men with broken limbs, and both men and women with bleeding faces and bodies were helped up. It was soon seen to be impossible to draw off the Willamette without to draw off the Willamette without sinking the Premier, so Capt. Anderson determined to forge ahead, driving before him the steamer spiked on his bow. He forced her back on the beach and was so tightly wedged in that he could not back off without dragging the Premier with him. The tug Goliath towing out a schooner, was halled and she took off the passengers, bearing them to Seattle, where they arrived about midnight. The receding tide left both vessels stranded and still interlocked and no further news can be obtained tonight. It was feared that the bow of the Willamette was partly stove in.

Although the whole affair occurred in a few moments and the passengers quickly recovered from the momentary shock and fright, there were some pitiable scenes. Later in the day a more successful effort was made. The tugs Goliath and Tacoma pulled the ships apart and the Premier sank to the bottom, the water coming up to the main deck rail at half tide. which he said:
Among the thousands of emotions suggested by this day, the first is one of humiliation. As a people we are disposed to brag and boast and have inordinate confidence in our own powers. But if we come to view things with unprejudiced eye and pass a judgment free from self-interest, we must say that, as a rule, our own things are not the best. The productions of our skilled labor are not always equal to those of older countries. The only things we have any reason to boast of are those things the production of which we have we have any reason to boast of are those things the production of which we have nothing to do with, namely, our natural resources and the gifts of God. I feel that I am not going out of my way in sounding a note of warning to the press. I would warn the press of its decadence in its hold upon the people, and the weakening of its power to mold and guide public opinion. I do not say this power has been lost, but most surely there is great danger of it, How can it be otherwise when the press panders to vicious tastes and is recognized as partisan in national matters?

By Telegraph to The Times. PARIS, Oct. 9.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Col. Dodds, commander of the French forces in Dahomev, has telegraphed further accounts of the state of affairs prevailing in Dahomey and the position of the French troops. The Dahomeyans, undismayed by the severe punishment which they received in the battle of October 4, made a desperate attack on Maj. Gounard's scout-ing party Thursday, October 6. The French lost four men. Three of the natives were killed and twenty-two of Behanzin's followers were wounded.

The official dispatches say that in the and one of the enemy numbered about 5000 and in the ranks were the famous Amazons, whose ferocious fighting qualities are well known. The Dahomeyans occupied a strong position on meyans occupied a strong position on the other side of the river, and had strongly fortified the bridge between the two shores. Maj Gounard carried the bridge at the point of the bayonet. It was a sanguinary engagement, the native warriors contesting every inch native warriors contesting every inch

The enemy, however, at length were SITTING BULL'S DUPES.

The "Messiah" Craze Not Ended at Pine Ridge.

OMARA (Neb.,) Oct. 9 .- By the Asso ciated Press.] Dr. V. T. McGillicuddy of Rapid City, S. D., well known as one of the best posted men in the country on Indian matters, is in Omaha, having just come from the Pine Ridge agency Talking today to a Bee reporter he said: "I don't wish to pose as

The Indians are sullen and in many ways show resentful feeling, and unless something is done to counteract this there is danger of trouble next spring. The is danger of trouble next spring. The 'Messiah' spirit is not dead and the whites must not depend on the state-ment that the Indians are no longer considering the promise made by Sitting Bull and other medicine men who led

"While there is no open dancing, there is quiet discussion of the subject, and the fact that the promise was that and the fact that the promise was that the 'Messiah' would come after two springs, which would bring the time in the spring of 1893, is being carefully kept in mind by the Indians. The Government recently paid the Indians at Pine Ridge $85,000, and this is used as an argument that the Gray Extheri as an argument that the 'Great Father fears his red sons, else why should he seek to buy them off. Then the return from Fort Sheridan of Short Bull and from Fort Sheridan of Short Bull and Kicking Bear has added another dis-turbing element to the already deeply stirred state of affairs at Pine Ridge. The most significant thing is the fact that there have been communications between the various tribes of a secre and apparently important nature during the summer. There is a line of communication well established and constantly used between Indian Territory and British America, and the Indians all along the line understand each other."

The Unfinished Three-minute Trot This Morning.

Much Interest Manifested by Horse men in the Final Result.

The Recent Defeat of the Great Sants Ana Pacer Slikwood.

With the Event Which Will Probably Put a Stop to Further Idle Talk About Jobbery.

The unfinished three-minute class trot which was postponed on Saturday evening on account of darkness will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock and as an immense amount of interes is manifested in it there will doubtles be a large crowd in attendance. Al-though Walter Maben's Freckles and E. L. Maberry's Queen Anne have each many staunch admirers, who still be-lieve him equal to the task of out-trot ting his opponents, and as they still have pool tickets upon him they will certainly be there to see him make the attempt. C. H. Lockhart's Anteeo Button is still in the race, but he is scarcely speedy enough for the company he is in and really cuts no figure in it now, the contest remaining between the other three horses.

SAN BERNARDINO RACES.

An Attractive Programme and Very Liberal Purses Offered. There will be a general exodus of norsemen and horses from this city today, as almost all of them have engage-ments to fill at San Bernardino, where the fourth annual fair of the Twenty eighth District Association opens to-morrow. The programme, which was published in yesterday's issue, is an inviting one and the meeting will undoubtedly be the largest one ever held

This day has been set aside entirely for the cyclists; and as the Riversiders have taken hold and as the Riversiders have taken hold of the matter, an entertainment of a high order may be confidently expected. The day's sport will commence with a wheelmen's parade and drill, under the joint management of the San Bernardino and Riverside clubs. There are five races, a mile for the 2.40 class; a mile for the 8.10 class; a quarter mile heat race for ladies: an open mile, and heat race for ladies; an open mile, and a five mile race for the championship of Southern California. The prizes offered are all valuable and have been chosen are all valuable and have been chosen more with a view to their utility than to their beauty. A large delegation of local wheelmen will run down to participate and Friday will be by no means the least exciting day of the week.

SILKWOOD'S DEFEAT.

Plain Facts That Should Stop Further Idle Talk About Jobbery. Since the defeat of the Santa Ana pacing stallion Silkwood, for his defeat must now be conceded by every fair minded person who saw the race, by Tom Keating's gelding Our Dick, there has been a great deal said by the admirs of the black sidewheeler and the friends of his owner, J. Willits, that had better have been left unsaid. Most of it is too ridiculous for comment, but as the rest consists of charges, which reflect upon the honesty and integrity of men whose characters have never of men whose characters have never before been called into question, much less impeached, the matter calls for something more than a few cursory remarks. As an indication of the feeling exhibited by the people of Orange county the day after the race, it was stated on reliable authority that the people of Orange county are to a man highly indignant over what they are free to wooclaim a most unfair and distrete the results. free to proclaim a most unfair and dis-honest race, claiming that Silkwood was repeatedly fouled at the first and last quarters of the heats, but that the judges refused to consider Mr. Willits's

On learning of this on Friday morning a Times reporter, while out at the track took occasion to investigate the matter The first person he sought was Mr. Willis, whom he found dismounting from his cart at Silkwood's stall, after hav-ing jogged his 2:10 % stallion on the

Mr. Willits courteously acceded a once to the request for an interview on the subject of the race, and stated that he had no complaints to make against either of the three men against whom he had driven, as he knew before the either of the three men against whom he had driven, as he knew before the race that he need expect nothing from them and that they would do all they could to beat him. But what he did expect was that the judges would protect him, and even if the rules were so formed that no provision was made against collusion and jobbery, such as was apparent on that day, he thought that they would do their duty like men and see that he got a square deal. Instead of doing so, he stated, they disregarded the reports of one of their own garded the reports of one of their own patrol judges, Director R. R. Brown, of the association. This was easily exthe association. This was easily explained, in his opinion, by the fact that there were men in the judges' stand who were prejudiced against him, because his horses had beaten their's at different times in the past.

He stated further that the day before the race it had been arranged with the the race it had been arranged with the directors that a Santa Ana judge-should directors that a Santa Ana judge-should be associated with the others in the stand, but that on the day of the race Pleasance, on old-time resident of that place, had presented himself at the stand, but had been informed that the judges could attend to their business without the assistance of outsiders. He claimed that he could not get justice here, and said that he was thoroughly disgusted with the manner in which he had been treated.

The reporter next sought Hon. L. J. Rose, the presiding judge, and obtained a statement from him which was substantially to the following officer. stantially to the following effect: any such arrangement as stated by Mr. Willits had been made beforehand, he Willits had been made beforehand, he knew nothing of it, but he was very sure that neither Mr. Pleasance nor any one else presented himself while he was in the stand on the day of the race, and, if he had, he would certainly not have treated him discourteously. The driver of Sikwood, Mr. Willits, made no protest. After the first heat of the vectors. test. After the first heat of the test. After the first heat of the race he came up into the stand, and, when asked if he had any complaint to make, said that he would wait until the patrol judges came in. R. R. Brown, one of these officers, came in and reported that the driver of Tom Rider had cut in ahead of Silkwood at the upper turn. The bell was rung, and Mr. Newton sent for. When the latter came up he was told of the report, and at once turned to Mr. Willits and demanded whether or not he had fouled him. Mr.

tests having been made, the judges, Messrs. Rose, George Hinds and Capt. A. W. Barrett, could not very well consider any, and therefore no attention was paid to the matter reported by the patrol judge.

Director J. C. Newton was then found attention and the state of the state o and stated emphatically that no such arrangement as that spoken of by old man Willits had been made. That he had been approached on the subject the day before the race, but refused to entertain any such proposition, and day before the race, but refused to entertain any such proposition, and expressed surprise that such a want of confidence in the people of this county, who were just as much interested in Silkwood as those of Orange county. should be exhibited. Ha further stated that the northern horsemen had come down here and accepted the conditions, and that the association proposed to treat them all alike.

As for the statement that Silkwood was "doped," which it is but fair to state did not effinate from Mr. Willits, it is preposterous, for no horse living state did not effinate from Mr. Willits, it is preposterous, for no horse living could pace two such heats as those paced on Wednesday last if "doctored." The secret of the whole matter, if any there be, is that the Santa Ana stallion has heretofore had everything his own way, and his admirers came to the conclusion that he was invincible. When, however, by met horses hardened the conclusion that he was invincible. When, however, he met horses hardened by a long campaign on the northern circuit, as were the three he went against on Wednesday, and much speedier company than he had been in before, the black, good as he undeniably is, falled to make the showing his admirers expected, and unable to believe in his defeat, they sought to make it appear that he was cheated out of a well-earned victory. ell-earned victory.

As a matter of fact, Silkwood, on the

As a matter of fact, Silkwood, on the day of the race, was not to be compared with his opponents as regards condition, and it is therefore all the more to his credit that he should have made such a remarkably good showing in the first two heats and gained a mark of 2.10 ½. That he was completely pumped out after the terrible drive his owner made in that accord heat you are who as well as the conditions of after the terrible drive his owner made in that second heat, no one who saw him at the track can deny. The natural sequence was that after the third heat, which was four seconds slower, the horse was simply done up, and his owner, knowing that if he drove him another heat there was every probability of his being "shut out," or distanced, begged the judges to allow him to withdraw, after having had his animal examined by a veterinary surgeon. It now remains for Mr. Willits, to accept the offer made by Ed Ryan to match his horse against Our Dick for a $1500 purse, within the two weeks allowed purse, within the two weeks allowed him, or to hold his peace forevermore

By taking Saturday's game from St. Louis Cleveland won the second season's championship in the National League. The clubs will wind up next Saturday, and in the mean time Cleveland can lose all this week's games and Boston win all without changing the result, barring such tactics as are sometimes practiced in the California League. Cleveland and Boston will then play it off for the world's championship in a series of games which will probably be played exclusively in those two cities. The other clubs will doubtless finish in about the positions they occupy in this morning's table.

We look forward to the early awakening, in the financial markets, of increased interest in the International Silver Conference. We recently noted certain symptoms of a disposition in high places in Europe to defeat the assembling of the conference. It now begins to appear that, if such a desire has existed, it arose from fears of the conference awakening a storm which the gold-standard nations might find it difficult to control or allay. The Hebrew refugees from Russia are in much the same unfortunate plight as the dove that Noah first sent out from the ark. They can find no resting place for the soles of their feet. The German government has determined that it will not allow such emigrants turned back from America to land on its soil. This decision has been pending for some time, as an ever-increasing number of penniless Russian Hebrews, excluded from the United States, have become public charges in German communities. The complications resulting from the cholera quarantine simply hastened the governent's action. Officials have been for bidden to sell the returned emigrants railway tickets or to allow them to travel on German railways. The emigrants must proceed to Russia by sea and, regardless of protests, must be landed at a Russian port. At Cuxhaven and Geestemund parties of returning Hebrews were stopped last week by officials, supported by the people, and were compelled to reëmbark. The emigrants were not even allowed to seek o

The children in attendance had doubled in numbers, and it was decided by the Chinese School Committee, Mrs. F. M. Dimmick, chairman, to enlarge the room. Partitions were quickly re-moved, a new floor was laid and the room was prettily papered. Inexpensive curtains were hung at the doors and windows, a few gictures were bought to adorn the walls, and all the old friends exclaimed, upon entering the building, "It is a new room." After a short devotional session, led by the Chinese missionary, Mrs. Chapin, a short programme was followed, in which the course and recitations of the Chinese gs and recitations of the Chinese children were an attractive feature Now the audience was a large one Now the audience was a large one, twenty-four Chinese alone being in at-tendance, and the room was uncomfort-ably full. It was, therefore, quickly de-

It was, therefore, quantificated to take possession of a large store-room close by, kindly given without charge by the proprietor for several weeks during the renovating process of the schoolroom, and to use it for the weeks during the renovating process of the schoolroom, and to use it for the collation. Thither sped willing feet, and in a trice a long table was covered with a snowy cloth, adorned with smilax and unusually large and beautiful bouquets. Piles of dainty China plates, decorated in the China plates, decorated in the finest style of the "middle kingdom," each with a linen rapkin upon it, were placed beside baskets of tiny cups and pots of fragrant tea. Delicious cake, well frosted and abundant in quantity, loaded the tables. The Chinese women and children were seated first in a large circle about this really beautiful table. In a larger circle as t visitors and friends. A committee distributed the tempting viands. But first all stood in reverent silence while Rev. Mr. Chapin, for twenty-one years a missionary to China, asked God to bestow His blessing. Then the merry feast began. To every Chinese woman and child was offered as much cake as she could possibly eat and all China plates. and could was oldered as inden cake as she could possibly eat and all the tea she desired to drink. Then were distributed the flowers so loved by every Chinese woman. To the great delight of the Chinese children tiny frosted cakes had been prepared for each of them out of the top of each for each of them, out of the top of each for each of them, out of the top of each of which appeared to climb by might-and-main force a tiny but beligerent doll, dressed in a manner suitable to the heat of the day—a bow of baby ribbon. Mrs. Chapin remarked "that upon no other occasion had she seen the Chinese women and children behave so well or appear so happy. Some of the poor slave women were almost beautiful that day, with a smile in the eve and appear so happy. Some of the poor slave women were almost beautiful that day, with a smile in the eye and upon the cheek quite in contrast to their usually stolid expression. The unspoken parting prayer of the Christian women was 'Lord, upon these poor lost ones, exiles from God and home, let the eternal joy of Thy lovelight soon dawn.'" Thus happily reopened the Chinese school in the Presbyterian mission room, this city.

AN INTERESTING RELIC

Autograph Letter from Franklin Pierce to Jefferson Davis. F. J. Upton, of Station D, has an in-teresting historical relic, in the form of an autograph letter from Franklin Pierce to Jefferson Davis, of date Jan-uary 6, 1850. The letter is written on a large sheet, divided into four parts by lines, after the fashion of the time, and is in a wonderfully good state of preservation. The letter is interesting have transpired since it was written, reading, in the light of the events that have transpired since it was written, and is reproduced as follows:

CLARENDON HOTEL, Jan. 6, 1850.

My dear friend: I wrote you an unsattatectory note a day or two since. I have just had a pleasant interview with 1. Shipley, whose courage and fidelity a 2. equal to his learning and talents. He says he would rather fight the battle with you as the standard-bearer in 1860 than under the auspices of any other leader. The feeling and judgment of Mr. S. in this relation, I am confident, is rapidly gaining ground in New England. Our people are looking for "the coming man." One who is raised by all the elements of his character above the atmosphere ordinarily breathed by politicians. A man rightly fitted for this emergency by his ability, courage, broad. statesmanship and patriotism. Col. Seymon from man. A man rightly fitted for this emergency by the rived here this morning and expressed his views in this relation in almost the identical language used by Mr. Shipley. It is true that in the present state of things in Washington and throughout the country no man can predict what changes two or three months may bring forth. Let me suggest that in the running debates in Congress full justice seems to me not to have been done to the Democracy of the North. I do not believe our friends of the South have any just idea of the state of feeling rising at this moment to the pitch of intense exasperation between those who respect their political obligation and those who have apparently no impelling power but that which fanatical passion on the subject of domestic slavery imparts. Without discussing the question of right of abstract power to secede, I have hever believed that actual disruption of the Union can occur without blood, and if through the madness of Northern arbitrationism that direcalamity must come, the fighting will not be along Mason and Dixon's line merely. It will be within our own borders, in our own streets, between the two classes of citizens to whom I have referred. be along Mason and Dixon's line merely. It will be within our own borders, in our own streets, between the two classes of citizens to whom I have referred. Those who defy law and scout constitutional obligations will, if we ever reach the arbitrament of arms, find occupation enough at home. Nothing but the state of Mrs. Pierce's health would induce me to leave the county now, although it is me to leave the county now, although it is quite likely that my presence at home would be of little service. I have tried to impress upon our people, especially in New Hampshire and Connecticut, where the only elections are to take place during the coming spring, that while our union meetings are all in the right direction and well enough for the present they will not 'be worth the paper upon which their resolu-tions are written, anless we can overthrow political abolitionism at the polis and re-peal the unconstitutional and obnoxious laws which, in the cause of "personal lib-erty," have been placed upon our statute erty," have been placed upon our statute books. I sinerely look with deep interest and not without hope for a decided change in this relation.

Ever and truly your friend,
FRANKLIN PIERCE.

REPRIGERATOR CAR RATES. A blow has been dealt by the Chicago and Grand Trunk at the owner of pri-ate refrigerator cars. That company and Grand Trunk at the owner of private refrigerator cars. That company allows only % of a cent per mile for the the of these cars. The rate heretofore has been I cent per mile. Several of the eastbound lines have been complaining for some time that they were being inposed upon by the combination of pickers, known as the "Big Four." These packers own their refrigerator cars, and it appears that they have provided themselves with many more cars than are actually needed for their own shipments. In order to keep the cars in service, it is claimed that the Big Four uses a portion of the mileage received from the railroads to induce the shippers to use its cars. The amount paid to these shippers cuts the rate to just that extent and compels the roads to pay mileage on such shipments that otherwise would have been forwarded in their own cars. Thus the packers come into competition with the railroads, whose cars are lying idle on their tracks. It is for this reason that the Grand Trunk announces a reduction of 75 per cent. in the mileage allowed to the owner of private cars. Other roads will probably follow its example. THE LARGEST PASSENGER LOCOMOTIVE IN

The Union Pacific has just put into service the heaviest eight-wheeled paspenger locometive in America. It was built according to new designs furnished by Superintendent McConnell. The top of the smokestack is 15 feet 5 inches above the rail; the boiler is 5 feet in diameter, 28 feet 5 inches long, and contains 253 tubes each 2 inches in diameter. The firebox is 8 feet long, the average steam pressure 184 pounds, and the drawing wheels are 69 inches in diameter. The weight of the locomotive, empty, is 108,500 pounds. The locomotive is used to haul the fast mail over the continental divide, where it overcomes a grade of 95 feet to the mile. The new 903, the glant locomotive of the New York Central, differs from the above in having four driving wheels 7 feet in diameter, 14 feet 10 % inches to the top of the smokestack, and will dethe top of the smokestack, and will de-velop 10,000 horse-power. A decision has just been handed down by the commissioners of the Western Traffic Association, through Chairman Walker, convicting the Union Pacific passenger department of making unauthorized rates. The case is chiefly remarkable for the length of time it has taken to decide it. REAT is the trade in cloaks; great is the trade in dress goods; greater still is the enormous growth of this business. It stands head and shoulders above any other business. Notice the packages on the street; notice the great crowds in the house upstairs and down: ask any employee and they will tell you the increase in business is something grand. We use common sense in dealing with the employees; we use common sense and common courtesy in dealing with the public. Courtesy what a noble word when properly applied. Saturday night closing; workingmen appreciate this. Discounts to all; ministers, church-going people appreciate this. . Our great prize doll exhibit; the Sabbath school children appreciate this. Knocking flinders out of the enormous water monopoly of this city; everybody, except the water company, appreciates this. And we would feel like getting a mule to kick us if they did. Dress goods at 50c a yard; goods worth 85c, 75c, 65c, all for 50c a yard; cloaks for $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $5.00; they too are appreciated, by the looks of the crowd. The cloak trade is simply immense and it is getting immenser-concentration, that means business concentration. When Grant laid seige to Richmond he concentrated his forces. He sent cannon ball after cannon ball at the weak places, and only by concentration and energy did he accomplish that which no other man on earth ever accomplished. We are banging away on cloaks; it is concentrating the attention of the public to our great cloak department. The eyes of the public are concentrated here and we are getting the business from this concentration. We have been banging away for three good long steady years for the city to take hold and own and operate its own water works. This concentration and pounding away will surely lead to victory. It means prosperity to every citizen of this city; it means cheap water rates; it means protection to the day laborer from the extortion of this great water monopoly. Chicago water rates, $6 to $8 a year; Los Angeles water rates, $100 a year for the same size plant. What an outrage! What a terrible abuse!

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROPESSIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESS PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition—to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolonged makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolonged of a sign-board, filled with characters ensuringly of a ingless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends. It is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the discusses which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

The Nomination of an Anti-Tammany City Ticket,

National Importance for More Reasons Than One.

The Sorry Spectacle Which Cleveland Has Made of Himself.

An Abject Slave of a Gang of Political Bandita Without Even the Self-respect to Demand the Rights of Membership.

Special Correspondence of The Times New YORK, Oct. 3.-My prediction that an anti-Tammany ticket would be nated in New York has been confirmed. Ex-Mayor Grace and his friends have finally decided that they will put a full list of names in the field. This is of national importance, for two reasons. First, it will have an effect on the New York State as well as on the New York city campaign, and the New York State campaign may very well determine who is to be our next President. Its effect on the State campaign will be unfavorable to the Republicans Second, it is a slap in the face of the Tammany tiger that may teach the illmannered beast a lesson, and now, when Tammany has ceased to be satisfied with running the biggest city in the land, but has reached for and secured control of the Democratic candidate for President of the United States, the more

President of the United States, the more slaps in the face she gets the better it is for the country.

Never before in the whole history of the Nation has a Presidential caudidate bowed so abjectly before a local ring; a a ring made of such base metal that it must necessarily blacken and defile every character with which it comes in the face of the Cereband has contact. The fact that Cleveland has made himself the abject slave of this gang of political bandits cannot be impressed too strongly on the minds of the people. He has not even had the self-respect to demand the rights of memberable, he has been content to creat. bership—he has been content to creep humbly into the camp and promise to do any work, however dirty and distaste-ful, for the mere privileges of food and shelter. Whatever may be said about Benjamin Harrisch, no one has ever yet accused him of being a rascal or a coward.

One very good thing has happened.
Candidate Cleveland has sworn off—at least for the present. Was there ever a more ridiculous performance than his dramatic "get thee behind me, Satan," on the Fall River boat the other day?
A lady from Kentucky who was dining at a table near the one at which the prophet was satisfying his yery ample prophet was satisfying his very ample appetite, handed the waiter a glass of appetite, handed the waiter a glass of inchampagne and asked him to give it to Mr. Cleveland with the regards of herself and her daughter. Cleveland took the wine, but instead of touching it to his lips and bowing a pleasant declination to the lady, or drinking it to her health, whichever he chose, saw in the enisode a change to make a speech episode a chance to make a speech.

He couldn't twist things around so that a letter writing condition confronted bim; but a little so that a letter-writing condi-tion confronted him; but a little-speech was easy. He is as eager for advertising as a Casino coryphée, and allows no such opportunities to slip. So, pompously rising to his feet, he faced the crowded dining-room of the Pilgrim. With a bow to the lady who had sent him the wine and with a sweep of the glass under his grizzly mustache he began. Every person in the room of the glass under his grizzly mustache began. Every person in the room was of course all attention, and the lady from Kentucky was terribly embarrassed. Mr. Cieveland thanked her for the honor she had done him in sending that wine over to him. But no! He could not, he would not drink it. "I have decided," said he, with an expression of self-deaving retrust that me strength and the said of the said of the said her with an expression of said deaving retrust that me are said of the s sion of self-denying virture that made the electric lights wink and shiver, "I have decided to drink no intoxicants. "Until after election." Then the diners cheered and the loughty one sat down. Almost at once. am told, the Kentucky lady left he room with blazing cheeks and downcast eyes. She had perand downcast eyes. She had per-formed a simple act of courtesy to a man whom she had been foelish enough to admire, and he had abused her politeness by turning it into an excase for a speech and making her unpleasantly conspicuous before a boat-load of people. In the meantime the other passengers began to see how the thing really looked. Here was the Democratic candidate for President-publicly promising to let liquor alone— until after election. That was as much as to say: "If I should take a single That was as much. drink between now and November 8 I would probably take too much. So I hereby pledge myself not to take any until the last ballot has been cast, and then, by the great Horn Spoon, I'll the isn't likely that Mr. Cleveland intended to "give himself away," but verily! he did it. Yea, yea, so he did. Polities in this city are having a hard struggle for supremacy with one Christopher Columbus, who is said to have discovered America and thereby made politics possible in this city. He has many things to answer for. The company calestation has distracted the ample calestation has distracted the many thirgs to answer for. The coming celebration has distracted the public mind from free trade and protection, the Tammany tiger and McKinley tin to an extent that is most surprising.

When Cleveland stepped from the boat after having sworn off until after election, he was met by James Oliver, a politician of this city who is popularly known as "Jimmie," and whose chief distinction lies in the skill with which he can "handle a ward." This is only remarkable when one speculates as to how it hust harrow the intellectuals of the mugwumps. Here is Cleveland, their apostie of reform, not only whelly in the power of Tammany Hall, an orin the power of Tammany Hall, an or-ganization which they have invariably stigmatized as corrupt beyond the power of a cultured mugwump tongue to express, but actually hobnobbing on the streets of New York with a ward heeler. Their idol has lowered his fat form from the pedestal on which they had placed i is coarsely pulling vulgar politi-

At seems reasonable to believe, too, that some of those wires are "live" snes and are likely to give the man who is pulling them a shock. For instance the one at whose other end Senator David Bennett Hill is dancing is very apparantly dangerous. David Bennett Hill is dancing is very apparantly dangerous. When Hill was "placated" he made his own terms, the sole condition being that he would "work" for the national ticket. That is, make speeches. He is carrying out this agreement but it is, not so satisfying to his placators as it might be. In none of the several addresses which Hill has delivered has he mentioned the name of the candidates for whom he is "sorking" more than once, and in all of them he has dwelt with length and emphasis on the planks in the Chicago platform which declare 'a protective aris unconstitutional and indorse wildcat banking. This course pleases no one but Senator Hill and the Republi one but Senator Hill and the Republi-cans. For the Democrats, while they are not in a position to deny that they adopted these planks, have all the time labored on the principle that they slidn't mean what they said in thems. It will be noted that no other Democratic spell-binder has spoken in favor of them. They have all spoken in explanation of them. But Hill boldly announces: "I am here not to defend but to indorse." In fact, it looks a little bit as if the Senator was "working" the national ticket instead of working for it. And the Senator will doubtless sustain his ticket instead of working for it. And the Senator will doubtless sustain his reputation in such matter by working it for all it is worth.

Our friends the enemy are just beginning to understand what all this Republican "apathy" that they have said so much about amounts to. It merely means that the Republican leaders have made up their minds to make the enthusiasm, when it comes, red-hot, and to made up their minds to make the enthusiasm, when it comes, red-hot, and to make it stay red-hot up to the last moment. In the mean time they have been perfecting their plans so that when they do strike the blow-will fall precisely where it ought to fall. In several States, among them Rhode Island, the Republican campaign will last only three weeks. But while it lasts little Rhody will be fairly obscured by the cloud of fur.

Tammany is very badly frightened by the fact that she has had to practically abandon the big meeting which she had planned for an evening of this week. Last Wednesday it became evident that they could not draw a crowd big enough to half fill the great hall they had engaged, and so they were forced to face the chagrin of announcing that the powwow would occur in a smaller meeting-place. It is a significant fact that in the whole history of Tammany this has never happened before.

In the mean time the Republican canvass is being industriously and intellicloud of fur.

vass is being industriously and intellivass is being industriously and intelli-gently prosecuted. The election of a Republican mayor could only be accom-plished by means of a miracle, but Re-publicans are jubilant over their pros-pects for the Assembly. When the Democrats brought about their shame-fully variation, reapport formers, they fully-partisan reapportionment they figured that the Republicans could by no possibility carry more than four Asno possibility carry more than four As-sembly districts in November. It is now aimost certain, however, that seven Republican Assemblymen will be elected, and there is some hope that the number will be nine.

It is an ill will that blows no one good, and it seems now as if even the cholera breeze was not without a benechoicers breeze was not without a bene-ficiary. Trany one profits by it, it will be you people out there in the glorious climate of California. At the Union League Club the other night half a dozen men were discussing the probable dozen men were discussing the probable effect of the disease on next season's European travel. It has practically robbed this season of all its profits. Among the talkers was the vice-president of one of the big steamship companies. He said:
"Next season would have been a comparatively small year for travel from America of European and the season of the season of America to Europe, anyhow; for the World's Fair will make the tide set the World's Fair will make the tide set the other way. But the cholera will probably reduce it even more. Americans who might have gone to Europe despite the attractions at Chicago will remain on this side for fear the epidemic which has been suppressed with so much trouble may break out again. The largest class of travelers that will be stirred by this fear will be invalide, when stirred by this fear will be invalids who stirred by this fear will be invalids who go to Europe every summer for the good the climate or some foreign watering place might do them. These people will stay in America next summer, and very sensibly, too. But they will travel just the same. Hundreds upon hundreds of them from the East will go West. When they get there they will travel. West. When they get there they will learn that America has air as healthful and yiews as beautiful as any Europe can show. Our Rocky Mountains are as em, have also been driven from home before their usual time and are search. before their usual time and are search-ing eagerly for some place other than their homes to spend the winter in. Besides these, a good many Americans who had practically become residents of Europe have fled from the cholera and come back to America for the first and come back to America for the first time-in years. These people will, most of them, discover California. The popularity of Florida is waning because of wretched railroad service and the enormous hotel rates. Los Angeles, Riverside and other California points are accessible by the fastest and most comfortable trains the world ever saw, and their hotel proprietors have not yet developed into robbers. Unless Lamedeveloped into robbers. Unless Lamedeveloped into robbers. developed into robbers. Unless I am very much mistaken this cholera busi-ness will do more to develop California as a winter resort than anything else possibly could do."

The crowds that will choke this city into something akin to apoplexy next week while the Columbian celebration is going on are already beginning come in. So far there have been come in. So far there have been few Californians among them, and not, so far as I am able to learn, one person from Los Angeles, but I am loth to believe that a good many will not yet arrive. I don't believe there is any adequate idea outside of New York of the magnifications. magnificence of the spectacle which we magnificence of the spectacle which we have provided. The parades will be more elaborate than this or any other city over saw before. The naval pageant will be unique and wonderful. To Los Angeles by Electricity Inside of a Year.

Week's Big Convention-Let the Town be Inspected-People Coming and Going—A Quiet Sunday.

THE TIMES reporter has been informed THE TIMES reporter has been informed on two separate occasions by as many well posted citizens that an electric road will positively be built and in operation between Pasadena and Los Angeles inside of a year. The assertion is made that it is a sure thing that does not admit of a doubt. The idea seems to be that the Los Angeles Electric Company will extend its line from East Los Angeles to Pasadena, and that some local capitalists will interest themselves in the professional connection.

some local capitalists will interest themselves in the undertaking. Connection could easily be established with the terminus of the Fair Oaks line on Columbia street, and the rest would be easy so far as this end of the line is concerned.

Such a road would prove popular all along the line and would capture its full share of the local passenger travel. An electric car could cover the distance between the business centers of the two cities in as short a time as at present and without change. It would also lead to the establishment of a complete local electric street car system.

THIS WEER'S CONVENTION.

On Wednesday the most important meeting of the year so far as Pasadena is concerned will convene here. Reference is made to the Y.M.C.A. Annual State Convention, the opening session of which will be held at the Tabernacte Wednesday, evening. The convention will be in session five days, and the visiting delegates will number several hundred. The local association by diat of hard work is making the necessary arrangements without finss or flurry, and thanks to the generous hospitality displayed by the people generally, all of the visitors will be well entertained.

A majority of the delegates will arrive in Pasadena at 2 o'clock Wednesday after. moon on the Santa Fé. They will be met in Los Angeles by a committee from town, Carriages will be in waiting at the station, and immediately upon their arrival the visitors will be driven about town for a couple of Bours.

A to o'clock the Ladies' Central Committee will serve a collation at Williams's Hall to the delegates. At 7:30 o'clock the convention will open at the Tabernacle with suitable exercises, to which the public generally is invited. An interesting musical programme will be rendered, interspersed with the following addresses of welcome: On behalf of the association by the president of the Board of Trade; on behalf of the business men, by W. U. Masters, Eug., president of the Board of Trade; on behalf of the ministers and churches by Kev. N. H. G. Now that everybody is interested more or less in the matter of public sentitation, why not have a complete sanitary inspection made of the town. Such a course has been pursued in many Eastern towns no larger than Pasadena to good purpose, and the same would apply here. The statistics would show how many dwelling-houses and how many public houses and bow many public houses and business blocks there are in town. It would be shown how many of these are in good condition and how many in bad condition. The inspection, of course, would include the yards and immediate surroundings. The houses found to be in bad condition could be revisited in a few days, and if the sanitary improvements suggested on the first

The Owner of Silkwood Meets With a Serious Accident.

Thrown from a Sulky by a Fractious Colt and Badly Hurt-Division in the Democratic Ranks-Kicking All Along the Line.

J. Willits, the owner of Silkwood, met with a painful and perhaps serious accident Saturday afternoon. After returning from Los Angeles in the morning with Silkwood and taking him to the Plaza ranch just west of the city, he hitched up a coil to a cart and started to return to Santa Ana on an errand. Just as he was driving out of the yard the coil frightened at a passing wagon, and jumping quickly to one side threw the driver from the sulkey, cutting his head and perhaps seriously bruisting his head and perhaps seriously bruis-ing his body. As Mr. Willits is 66 years-old there are fears entertained as to his immediate recovery.

KICKING DEMOCRATS.

RICKING DEMOCRATS.

The Democrats of Orange county have been in a hubbub the past few weeks. Every possible effort has been made by the enthusiastic leaders of the party to whip the old wheel horses into line, but about the only retails so far has been an exciting demonstration of the bucking propensities of the swingers and wheelers. The driver is cracking his whip and swearing, but the more frantic he becomes the harder his animals buck. D. M. Baker, editor of the Democratic Standard, has kicked over the traces and the galling of the straps has provoked him to take the bit in his teeth and to begin to buck himself out of the harness. He is a stayer, and as he is now getting his second wind some interesting developments are anxiously awaited by an enthusiastic public. The Executive Committee in the County Central Committee seems to be the driver of this political caravan, and the reason of Baker and others bucking is because they have been called upon to help pull Bennett, the Populite's candidate, up Assembly hill when the third party refuse to reciprocate by helping the Democrats carry Scarborough to the District Attorneyship's lofty peak. The Executive Committee, however, seems to be lieve that if showers of blessings are heaped upon their third party friends they will become ashaned of themselves and in time come to the rescue of their want-to-be-friend for policy sake and help them pull in ahead of the Republican coach. Indeed, it is an interesting state of affairs, politically, and to an outsider appears immensely funny. Truly, serentiy in the Democratic camp in Orange county is now most conspicuous by its entire absence.

The following are some of Baker's bucks since he has begin to get his second wind:

We publish an address in this issue from the Democratic Executive Committee of the the Democratic Executive Committee of the county announcing that Bennett has been indorsed by the Central Committee as the Democratic candidate for Assemblyman. We believe he is a positive injury to the Democratic ticket and modestly suggest that those can indorse him who want him. We don't. The Democracy of Orange county had a splendid opportunity to elect a true Democrat this year, but have thrown away the chance, and now it is a poor choice between rotten eggs. We have been told that Bennett pledges himself that he will vote for a Democrat for United States Senator in preference to a Republican, hence he wants Democratic votes. Astonishing statement! We'll bet a proper to the present of the statement was the statement.

a Republican, hence he wants Democratic votes. Astonishing statement! We'll bet a new hat that Wickham will give a pledge that he will vote for a Democrat in preference to a People's party candidate if the Democrats will support him. Such political sagacity as this throws the county into convulsions. Democrats want men this year who represent the party, and no political carpet baggers like Bennett.

Will the Democratic Executive Committee of this county please bring around a pledge in writing from Bennett that he will support a Democratic nominee for United States Senator! If we deal with political frauds we always want good security.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

An Outrage on a Prohibition Candidate at San Pedro.

A Public Meeting Broken Up by a Gang Toughs-The Guilty Parties Known and Arrests Are Likely to Fol-low Today or Tomorrow,

Georgia is not the only State in the Union that can boast of a good old-

Georgia's egg-throwers do not often miss the target, and the man who assumes that disagreeable rolle is liable to be be spattered with ancient hen fruit from hend to foot, but in San Pedro the hen-gunner's aim is so true that he can hit the bull's-eye four shots out of five.

If anyone doubts this statement it can easily be verified by putting a few questions straight from the shoulder to Hon. J. W. Davis, who has a large-sized desire to become a full-fledged law-maker in the lower house at Sacramento. So far as is known Mr. Davis has not yet established a private grave yard on his princely estates, and he may be a mild-nannered gentleman who will swing the other cheek around who will swing the other cheek around when the other side is mashed in, but when the other side, is mashed in, but this subject is not exactly popular with him at the present time, and it might be advisable for the person of an inquisitive turn of mind to employ Sontag and Evans as a body guard when he interviews him on the egg question.

But all joking aside, Mr. Davis, who is running for the Assembly on the Prohibition ticket, has been rotten-egged at the hands of a San Pedro audience, and Saturday night between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock witnessed the first political outrage of this kind that ever occurred in the Golden State.

curred in the Golden State. San Pedro is Mr. Davis's home, and he was booked for a grand Probibition blowout Saturday night. The good people of this party selected a spot for speech-making in front of Falk's saloon

The sinners were a meek and humble smile on their ugly faces and the good people breathed easier, for they had been warned earlier in the day that trouble was brewing. Things progressed as smooth as a Quaker wedding until Mr. Davis mounted the platform. His opening remarks were as mild as possible, and every sentence bubbled over with brotherly love and good will to all whisky displays but a change took, possession. drinkers, but a change took possession of his soul as soon as his right hand clutched a glass of cold water that rested on the little table in front of him.

He held the glass gracefully in his right hand and with his left he prepared to launch a whole chest full of abuse at the red noses in his audience. At least the owners of these noses thought it the owners of these noses thought it was coming, and quicker than a flash a lot of very ancient eggs were flying through the air from all quarters.

The first egg that reached Mr. Davis made a rattling noise as it whirled through the air. The aim of the man who fired it was true, for it lanted square in the able speaker's face, not with a dull thud, but with a slimy, sickening smash. The shell flew in all directions and the contents gracefully made its way to the speaker's glass, which was only a few inches from his mouth. and the contents gracefully shatter our ideal of the speaker's glass, which was only a few inches from his with a share of human frailties.

The contents of that egg proved to be a chick that had been dead many days and the aroma that came from the glass that was so pure only a second before was strong enough to put the oldest and best drilled undertaking shop in the State to flight.

Only one more volley followed, but every egg found a resting place would be law-maker' egg gunn of dwas 34.

Only one more volley followed, but every egg found a resting place in the would-be law-maker's bosom, and the egg gunners moved hurriedly out from among the audience.

Mr. Davis deserves much credit for the stand he took, for notwithstanding the fact that his audience, who were quite close to him when the speaking began, moved back several feet and took in his words of wisdom from a distook in his words of wisdom from a distance, he talked about ten minutes tance, he talked about ten minutes after the egg-throwing ceased and was roundly applauded by his followers for showing so much nerve.

As bad luck would have it, there were no officers present and no arrests were made, but several of the hoodlums who

MEXICAN AND SOUTH AMERICAN, Spanish and English. Translated by Ernest S. Green and Miss H. Von Lowenfels. (San Diego: Dodge & Burbeck.)
This volume opens a new field of beauty to the great mass of American readers. It introduces to our acquain-tance some of the finest singers of sister American republics, and it will be read by many who without it would have had no glimpse of the poetic greatness of many Mexican and Spanish American writers. The opening poem, "The Dark Forest," is from the pen of Gaspar Nuñez de Arce, and in this poem is represented "that sad period of life—verging to old age—in which the illusions and hopes fall withered from the heart as the dry leaves from the trees, destroyed by the autumn winds—in which the renewing of the soul's last affections and, its dreamed felicity is very difficult if not quite impossible."

Among the many translations from Mexican poets are some noble verse of "the inspired Mexican bard," Manuel Acuña—poems of affection and patriotic fervor, and from Manuel Caspio, another of that country's sweet singers. "Many bold South American poems are also introduced all hearing a touch
